Seasonal break for the Collective shop at Franklin Palais Theatre

Council is temporarily managing the operations of Franklin's Palais Theatre and as such wishes to advise the community of the operations of the Collective shop.

The Collective is run by volunteers and, like the monthly markets, takes a winter break each year.

The Collective will be open until 26 May 2024, to coincide with the last monthly market of the season.

"The Collective is a wonderful outlet for our local growers and crafters to sell their produce. I'd like to thank the dedicated volunteers who have managed the Collective this season, making this opportunity possible for our community," said Huon Valley Mayor Sally Doyle.

Bookings for the use of the Palais Theatre can continue to be made through the website <https://franklinpalais.com.au/> and by emailing bookings@franklinpalais.com.au
